POST DETAILS

Title: Teach English in Spain in September 2018!

Description: Are you a recent graduate looking for a valuable professional experience in Spain? Start teaching English in Spain in September and finish in June 2019. Receive a monthly income, TEFL-related training (paid by the programme), and ongoing in-country support.

Important dates:

- Deadline: August 15th
- Program length: September 2018 to June 2019

During one academic year, participants will teach 20 hours a week in one of the 200 schools Meddeas works with. They will also gain international experience and add transferable skills to their CV. Don't miss the opportunity to discover a new culture and language, paying no fees and with a guaranteed monthly grant, which is more than enough to live in Spain as a young professional.

Highlights:

- Monthly grant: €880-1,162 per month (enough to live in Spain as a young professional)
- Lodging options: independent housing or full board accommodation with a volunteer host family
- University course included (compulsory)
- More than 200 schools all over Spain
- Graduate programme for candidates with a degree in any subject. Advanced programme adapted to participants with TEFL/TESOL training. Speakers programme for candidates with higher passes.

"This is an opportunity to learn new skills in a teaching environment, even if teaching is not a future career goal: skills such as classroom management and of course organisational, planning, time management along with many other skills. Overcoming challenges within the classroom on a regular basis improves your ability to adapt and use your initiative in certain situations. Learning a new language is another great advantage, even though it is difficult to learn the language, it is still a positive experience," Kealan M., former Language Assistant with Meddeas.

Main Perks of the Programme

- Professional placement in a Spanish school, teaching 20 hours per week
- Certified course given by a Spanish university and paid by the programme
- Guaranteed monthly allowance, more than enough to live in Spain as a young professional
- Spanish public healthcare coverage
- Help opening a bank account
- Programme run by a serious and professional organisation
- Ongoing in-country support from the school's tutor and from Meddeas
- Initial training and teaching workshops

- Certificate of completion at the end of the programme
- Children aged two to eighteen. Learners' English levels range from beginner to advanced
- Paid school holidays (except for the summer period)
- No fees attached

Desirable candidate profile:

- Native-level English speaker
- Currently, only open to EU passport holders due to visa deadlines
- Recent graduates (last four years) OR last-year university students OR high school diploma
- No previous teaching experience needed (but valued)
- Someone who enjoys working with children and/or young people
- Energetic and creative
- Competence in the Spanish language is not required
- No criminal records
