POST DETAILS

Title:
Higher Level English Literature Teacher
Description:

An exciting opportunity has arisen for an outstanding English Literature teacher to join our uniquely democratic, highly collaborative and very successful in Rome. The New School Rome is a non-for-profit, private, international school for pupils aged 3?18 offering the English National Curriculum. Our most recent examination results place the school as one of the top performing independent international schools in Italy: 59% of students achieved A*/A at IGCSE and 71% of students achieved A*/A at A Level. We are seeking to recruit a colleague who can work both independently and collaboratively. They must have excellent subject knowledge at GCSE & A Level (or experience delivering IB English Literature or the Irish Leaving Certificate in Higher Level English) strong motivation and an ability to deliver excellent outcomes for students. This post would not be suitable for an NQT. The ability to teach another subject would be advantageous.

Essential Professional Criteria:

The New School Rome seeks to appoint teachers who have the following proven qualifications and qualities:
A degree in English and a teaching qualification, or a Bachelors or Masters degree in Secondary Education with English.
Experience of teaching A Level (or equivalent) English Literature and IGCSE successfully, and an understanding of effective assessment strategies.
Excellent communication and interpersonal skills.
A commitment to making lessons enjoyable, stimulating and relevant to all learners.
Empathy with students across the age and ability range and the ability to implement a range of teaching strategies to cater for each individual student.
The ability to encourage students to continue their learning independently and spark an enthusiasm and love for learning by modelling it as a teacher.
The depth of knowledge and agility of mind to allow flexibility in lessons, adapting delivery as appropriate in the light of students' responses.
Experience of promoting the personal development and wellbeing of children.
Patience and thoughtfulness to see any issues that may arise with students, parents or colleagues from a variety of perspectives.
The ability to adapt quickly to a new environment, establish good relations with students and gain their confidence.

The energy, dynamism and stamina to contribute fully to the life of a busy international school.
Experience in the role of Sixth Form Tutor or Head of Year would be advantageous.
Knowledge of the key principles of safeguarding and the welfare of students.
During the interview process, candidates will have the opportunity to demonstrate or give an account of these attributes.

The Role:

Deliver English and English Literature from Key Stage Three to Key Stage Five, including GCSE and A Level.

Maintain the highest standards of practice in planning, preparation, monitoring, assessment, reporting and feedback in line with school curriculum and policies.

Deliver individually focused English lessons in order to accommodate varying levels of knowledge and student ability from Key Stage Three to Key Stage Five.

Place at the heart of the curriculum an emphasis on oracy, creativity, independence and critical thinking.

Demonstrate willingness and ability to liaise effectively and professionally between students, staff and parents when required, making accurate records of these exchanges.

Collaborate in a small department to ensure the highest level of student engagement and progress from Key Stage Three to Key Stage Five.

Lead a tutor group and deliver the PSHE Curriculum, while monitoring individual student progress and promoting student well being.

Deliver co-curricular activities.
